"Anything new today?" asked one of our citizens of Mr. Andrews, the well known shoe merchant. "I should say there was," he replied. "Just look at this bunch of Queen Quality Spring styles we have just unpacked. Aren't they pretty swell? It's about the snappiest lot of oxfords we've ever had in the store. I thought last season that the Queen Quality people had the best assortment ever, but this lot goes way ahead of them. Why, we've got styles here that last season couldn't have been bought outside the highest-priced city shop and these are equal to the highest-priced goods in appearance and finish and, as to fitting qualities, you could give almost any price you please and still not get a more accurate fit. In my opinion the Queen Quality is away in advance of all other women's shoes."

Discovery in Brattleboro.

Brattleboro, May 24.—While contractors were figuring yesterday for the proposed independent water system for this village, it developed that the highway which runs through the site of the proposed reservoir was built by Windham County. The statute provides that county roads cannot be discontinued except by consent of the county court.

Members of the water board think that the road can be moved without violating the law, but the position of George E. Crowell, owner of the present system, is that this law must necessarily delay any alteration of the road and consequently the construction of the reservoir, until after the September term of court.
